

Gregg spoke in this message about how God wants more for us than to just endure and survive this time. God wants to not only comfort but to change us. He wants us to be transformed.

The Lord in this season has given us this gift of abundant time. And we have some choices to make. We could choose to:

- 1) Pass this time, on Netflix and other meaningless activities.
- 2) Spend this time, like doing house projects and catching up on things I never seem to get to.
- 3) We could INVEST this time.

Investing this unexpectedly available time...that could really be transformative! Here are a few areas or "buckets" in your life that maybe could use some transformation:

- 1) Transformed personally
- 2) Marriage
- 3) Family relationships
- 4) Extended relationships
- 5) Home
- 6) Finances
- 7) Business

Be encouraged by this time! Begin pressing in and asking God for revelation for how He wants you to invest in each of these areas. Lists like this sometimes immediately feel overwhelming and discouraging as you walk them out in your own strength to try to make changes in your life. As you continue to walk through this process of listening to God embrace the excitement! See how He transforms your life in all these areas!
